
LIFESPAN PRIVACY POLICY

MARCH 2014

OUR COMMITMENT

At Lifespan Financial Planning (Lifespan) we recognise that your privacy is very important. Our business is governed by legislation protecting your personal information, including the Privacy Act 1988 and Australian Privacy Principles (APPs) Privacy Amendment (Enhancing Privacy Protection) Act 2012 which replace the National Privacy Principles established under the Privacy Amendment (Private Sector) Act 2000.

Our Privacy Policy sets out our commitment to those principles. We require all our staff (including our Authorised Representatives) to adopt our Privacy Policy.

A summary of the Australian Privacy Principles is available by contacting our office.

ANONYMITY AND PSEUDONYMITY

You have the option of not identifying yourself or using a pseudonym when dealing with Lifespan unless it is impracticable for us to deal with you in this manner. If you elect to not identify yourself for a financial service we will inform you if it is impractical in those circumstances.

COLLECTION

As a provider of financial services we are subject to certain legislative and regulatory requirements, which necessitate us obtaining and holding detailed information, which personally identifies you and/or contains information or an opinion about you. In addition, our ability to provide you with a comprehensive financial planning and advice service is dependent on us obtaining certain personal information about you, including:

- (a) employment details and employment history
- (b) details of your financial needs and objectives
- (c) details of your current financial circumstances, including your assets and liabilities (both actual and potential), income, expenditure, insurance cover and superannuation
- (d) details of your investment preferences and aversion or tolerance to risk
- (e) information about your employment history, employment circumstances, family commitments and social security eligibility and
- (f) health information (required for some types of insurance)

We are required pursuant to the

- Corporations Act 2001,
- Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing Act 2006,
- Taxation Administration Act 1953,
- Australian Securities and Investments Commission Act 2001,

- Superannuation Guarantee (Administration) Act 1992,
 - Superannuation (Unclaimed Money and lost members) Act 1999
- as those acts are amended and any associated regulations and Rules of Professional Conduct of the Financial Planning Association of Australia (FPA) to collect sufficient information to ensure appropriate advice can be given in respect of recommendations made to our clients.

Failure to provide the personal information referred to above may expose you to higher risks in respect of the recommendations made to you and may affect the adequacy or appropriateness of advice we give to you.

Generally, collection of your personal information will be effected in either face to face interviews, over the telephone or by way of an online client engagement form. Additional and/or updated personal information may be collected through one or more of those methods as required.

Information may be received from 3rd parties such as accountants, solicitors or referring entities. This information will usually be information that we determined could have been collected from you directly. However, should we determine otherwise and the information is not contained in a Commonwealth record, we will as soon as practicably possible either destroy or de-identify it as long as it is lawful to do so.

USE AND DISCLOSURE

We will only collect, maintain and use Personal Information about you if it is necessary for us to adequately provide to you the services you have requested including:

- the preparation of your financial plan
- the provision of financial planning advice to you
